QUESTION NO# .02

GIVE BREIF ANSWER OF THE GIVEN QUESTIONS

(I)

ANS:

Scanning while reading is a technique where you quickly move your eyes over a text to find specific information. Instead of reading every word, you focus on keywords, headings, numbers, or any other details you're searching for. This method is useful when you need to locate particular facts or answers quickly without reading the entire content.

(II)

ANS:

- i. Subvocalization: Silently pronouncing each word in your head, which slows down reading speed.
- ii. Skipping Words: Missing important words or phrases, leading to misunderstandings.
- iii. Regression: Repeatedly going back to re-read sections, which interrupts the flow and comprehension.
- iv. Reading Word-by-Word: Focusing on each word individually instead of grasping whole phrases or sentences, making reading less efficient.
- v. Lack of Focus: Letting your mind wander, causing you to miss key points in the text.
- vi. Overemphasis on Details: Focusing too much on minor details at the expense of understanding the main ideas.
- vii. Poor Vocabulary: Struggling with unfamiliar words, which can disrupt comprehension and slow down reading.

(III)

ANS:

Topical Sentence

A topical sentence is the first sentence in a paragraph that tells you what the paragraph will be about. It introduces the main idea.

Supportive Sentences:

Supportive sentences follow the topical sentence and provide more details, examples, or explanations to help explain or prove the main idea. They make the paragraph clearer and more complete.

(IV)

ANS:

- Start with a Topic Sentence
- Stay Focused on One Main Idea
- Use Supportive Sentences
- Be Clear and Concise
- Maintain a Logical Flow
- End with a Concluding Sentence
- Revise and Edit

QUESTION NO# .03

I. Importance of Time Management for Student

Time management is crucial for students as it directly impacts their academic success and personal development. Effective time management allows students to prioritize their tasks, ensuring that they complete assignments and study for exams without last-minute stress. By organizing their time, students can balance academic responsibilities with extracurricular activities, leading to a more fulfilling and less stressful school experience. It also helps in developing self-discipline and responsibility, which are essential skills for future success. Additionally, good time management reduces procrastination and increases productivity, allowing students to make the most of their time. Ultimately, mastering time management enables students to achieve their goals more efficiently, maintain a healthy work-life balance, and build a strong foundation for their future careers.

II) A Memorable of Life

A memorable day in my life was when I achieved a significant milestone that I had worked hard for. The day started like any other, but the excitement was palpable as I awaited the results of my final exams. When I finally received the news that I had excelled beyond my expectations, a wave of joy and relief washed over me. My family and friends shared in my happiness, and we celebrated together. It was a day filled with smiles, laughter, and a deep sense of accomplishment. The feeling of seeing my hard work pay off made it unforgettable. That day not only boosted my confidence but also taught me the value of perseverance and determination.
